Student Finance

Are you funded by Student Finance and thinking of withdrawing from your course?

What you need to know.

Depending on the date of your withdrawal, Student Finance may not pay your full tuition fee liability, so a portion of your fee may be re-invoiced to you to pay back directly to the University.

Standard undergraduate courses, excluding all nursing, midwifery and trimester courses.

Tuition fee liability 0%

If you leave within the first three weeks of the start of semester one (19th September 2022 to 15th October 2022) no fees are due. Neither you, nor Student Finance will be charged.

No tuition fees due

Tuition fee liability 25%

If you withdraw after week three (15th October 2022 up to and including 16th January 2023) your tuition fee liability with the University will be 50% of your fees (£2312.5). Student Finance will only pay £2,312.5 and you will therefore be invoiced for the portion they will not pay - £2,312.5.

Tuition fee liability 50%

If you withdraw after 16th January 2023, up to and including the start of semester two, 23rd January 2023, your tuition fee liability with the University will still be 50% – £4,625 but Student Finance will fund the full 50% of your tuition fee. Student Finance to pay 50% (£4,625)

Tuition fee liability 100%

If you withdraw after the start of semester two, (23rd January 2023 up to and including the 17th April 2023), then your tuition fee liability is 100% (£9,250), however Student Finance will only pay 50% – £4,625. You will therefore be re-invoiced for the portion that they will not pay – £4,625. Student Finance to pay 50% (£4,625) Student to pay 50% (£4,625)

Please also be aware that, depending on the date of your withdrawal, this may also affect your maintenance payments from Student Finance. The above illustrations are based on tuition fees of £9,250 for a September starter. Please note that if you have been awarded a fee waiver or fee reduction then this will impact your tuition fee liability.
